DAILY REPORT – ROMANIA

Summary

- On Friday, BSE indices finished in the green, with one exception (BET-NG). The equities turnover was high and the move followed the international markets which reacted positively to Fed's announcement of QE3; European futures closed in the red though, pointing to a retreat in shares' price today, as investors engage in profit taking
- ROBOR ON stood at 5.03% on Friday, lower by 26 bp on a weekly basis;
- The yield curve moved down, especially the low end; the Treasury plans to sell 1 bn RON in bills and bonds this week

On Friday BSE indices finished in the green, on large turnover, in line with international markets. The boost came after the Federal Reserve announced another round of quantitative easing. The equities turnover on the domestic market was more than double compared to the previous day and the deals were operated with shares of Fondul Proprietatea, OMV Petrom, BRD and Transgaz. The only index to have finished in the red was the energy sector one, BET-NG (-0.12%), driven down mainly by Transgaz (-0.99%) and Transelectrica (-1.47%), utilities stocks which tend to be countercyclical. Otherwise, the rest of the indices moved between 0.45% (BET-C) and 1.98% (ROTX). However, European futures closed in the red, pointing to the fact that on Monday we could see shares retreat after some of the investors engage in profit taking.

ROBOR ON continued to slide on Friday, reaching 5.03% which is down by 26 bp compared to the previous weeks. The 5Y CDS (euro contracts) stands comfortably at 309 bp.

The yield curve continued to move down on Friday, especially at the low end. This week, the Treasury plans to sell 1bn RON in 12 T bills (800 mn RON) and 4Y bonds (200 mn RON) and the success of the last week could continue this week as well, especially if the NBR will not surprise with another liquidity cap this Monday.
